

KafeAdu – SDG16

Problem: Unregulated food price hikes in campus cafes are a growing problem that financially burdens students. Currently, campus communities lack transparent tools to track and report these unfair practices. A basic reporting tool like KafeAdu can empower students to document price changes, promoting vendor accountability and ensuring institutions maintain fair, just pricing for everyone.

Why it matters: This isn't just a food app. I'm trying to build a system that gives students a voice and holds cafe vendors accountable to the university's rules.
